

Scottsdale Unified School District Permission Form 2011-2012

Student Services Department

Scottsdale Unified School District provides student assistance programs by Scottsdale Prevention Institute (SPI). Prevention-focused group and individual support services are available for students who are referred for assistance in areas such as social skills development, divorce adjustment, grief support, and conflict resolution. The programs are preventative and educational in nature and do not include psychological assessment, evaluation, or therapy.

Your child has been referred to participate in an appropriate student support group and/or individual support conducted by a SPI Prevention Specialist. Please indicate your permission for your child's participation by completing this form and returning it to his/her teacher.
